

The Storage Daybed

Modeled after the Pottery Barn Stratton Daybed with Baskets ($999)

Glue and nail (2) 1x2 boards to the rough side of a 1/2" sheet of plywood using wood glue and 1" finishing nails.

Step 1

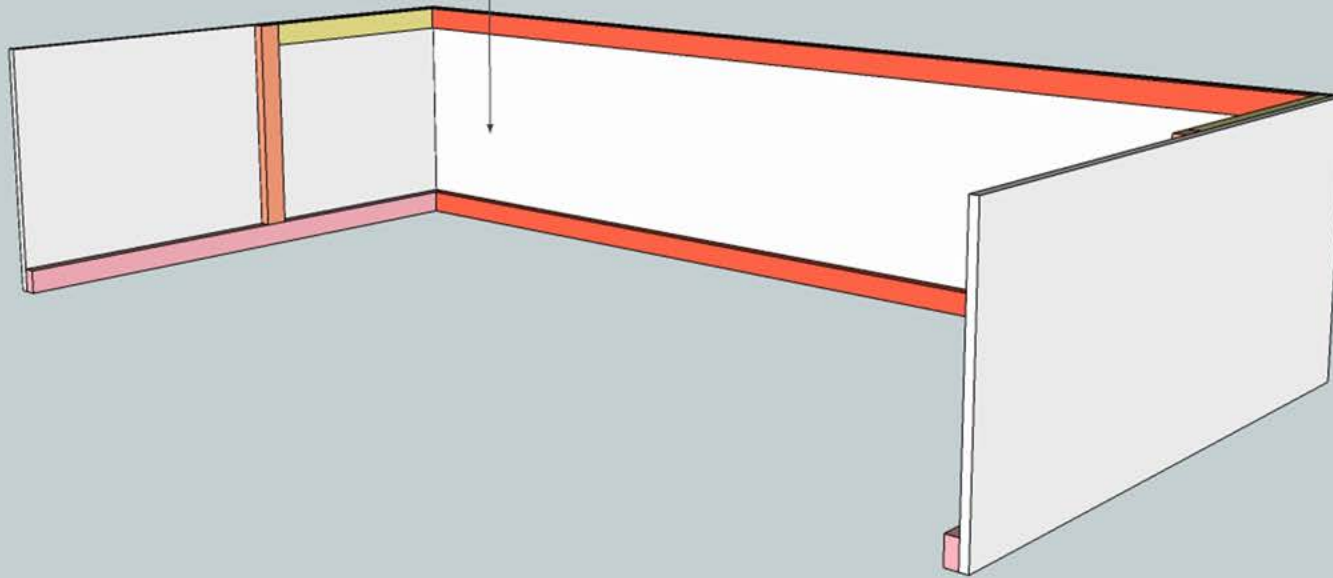

The Storage Daybed

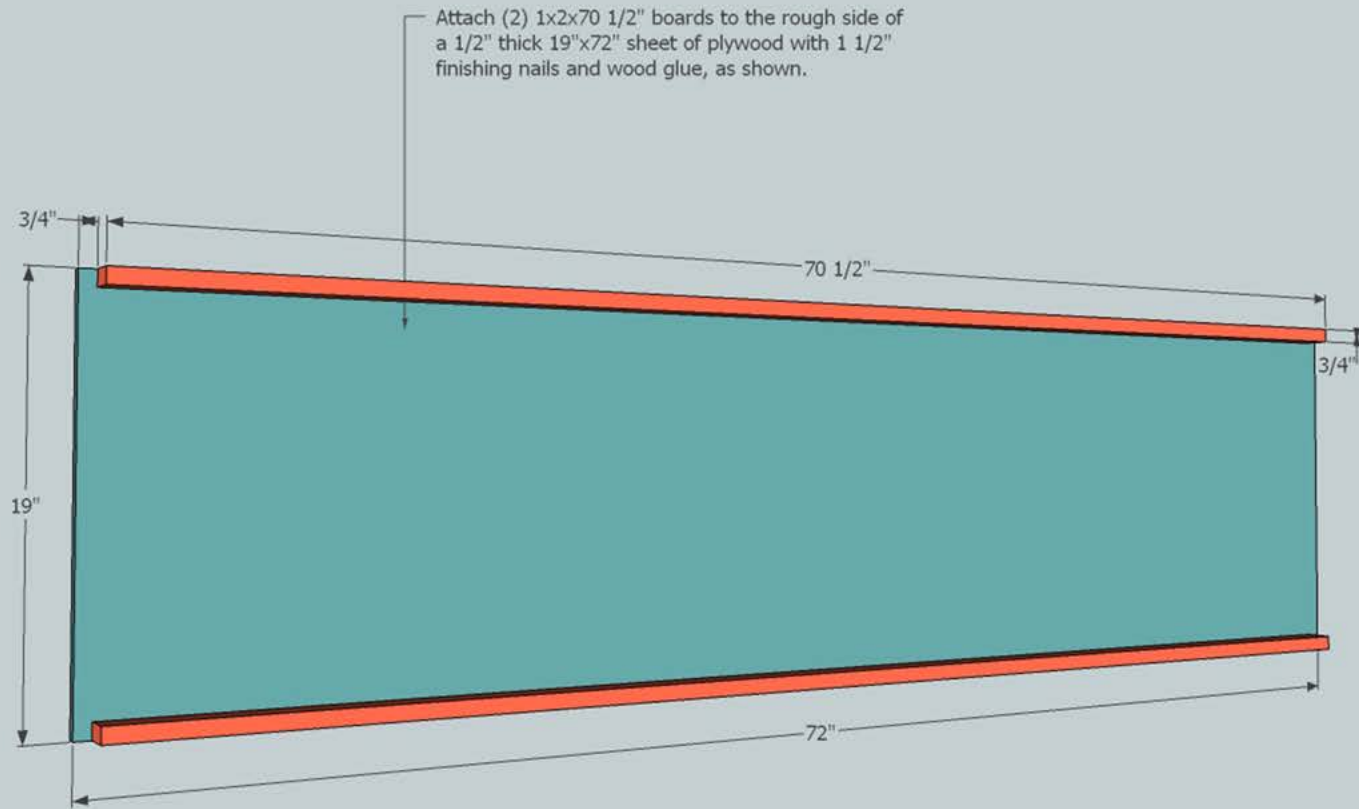

Fix a 36", 14 1/2" and a 15 1/2" 1x2 boards to the rough side of a 1/2" thick 16"x36 1/2" sheet of plywood as shown. Repeat but mirror the arrangement of 1x2 boards. These are your left and right sides of the daybed. Use wood glue and 1" finishing nails.

The Storage Daybed

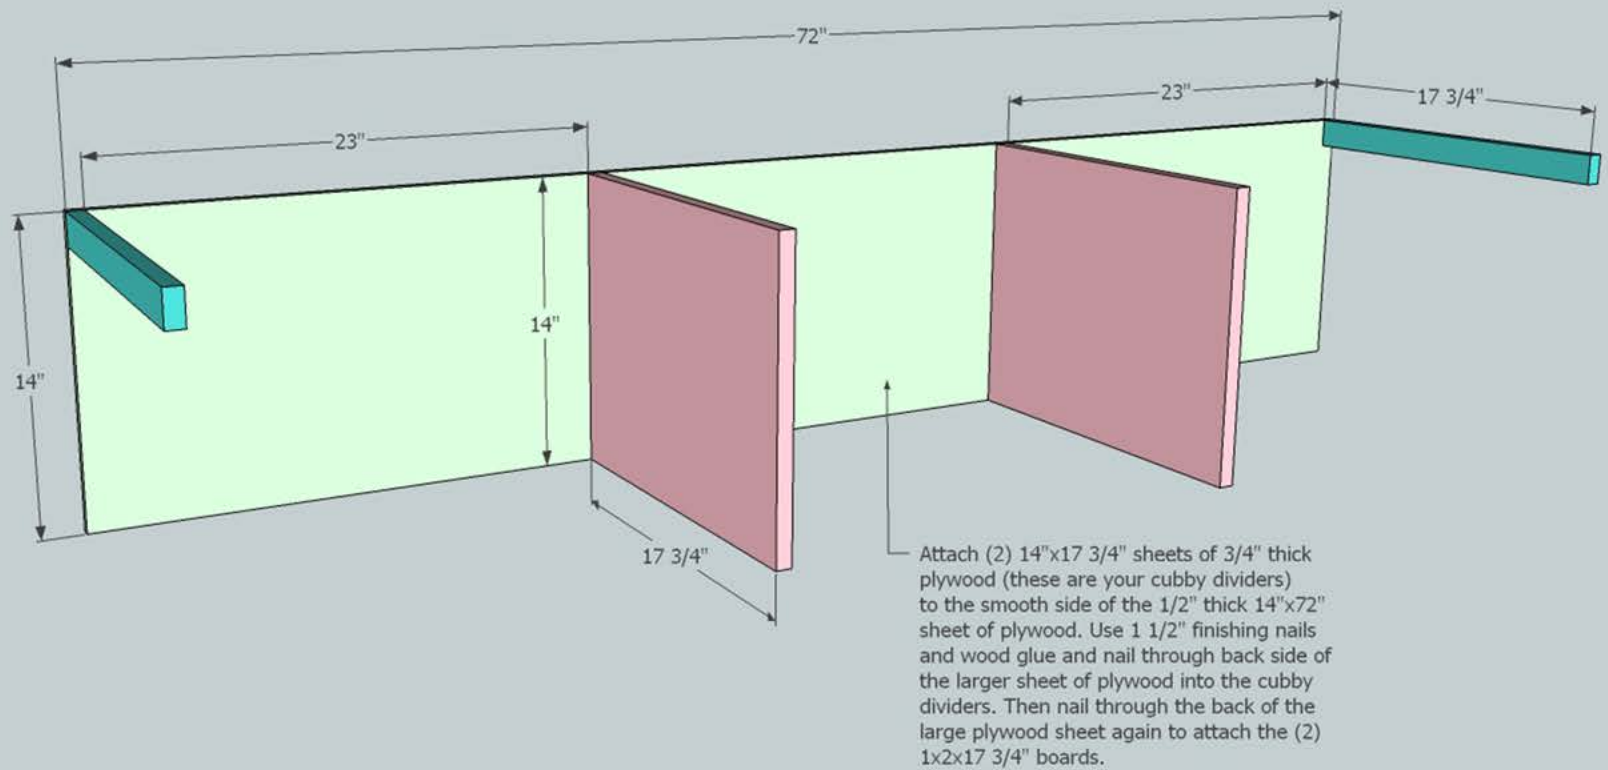

Join the back and sides of the daybed together with wood glue and by nailing through the outside edges and back with 1 1/2" finishing nails.

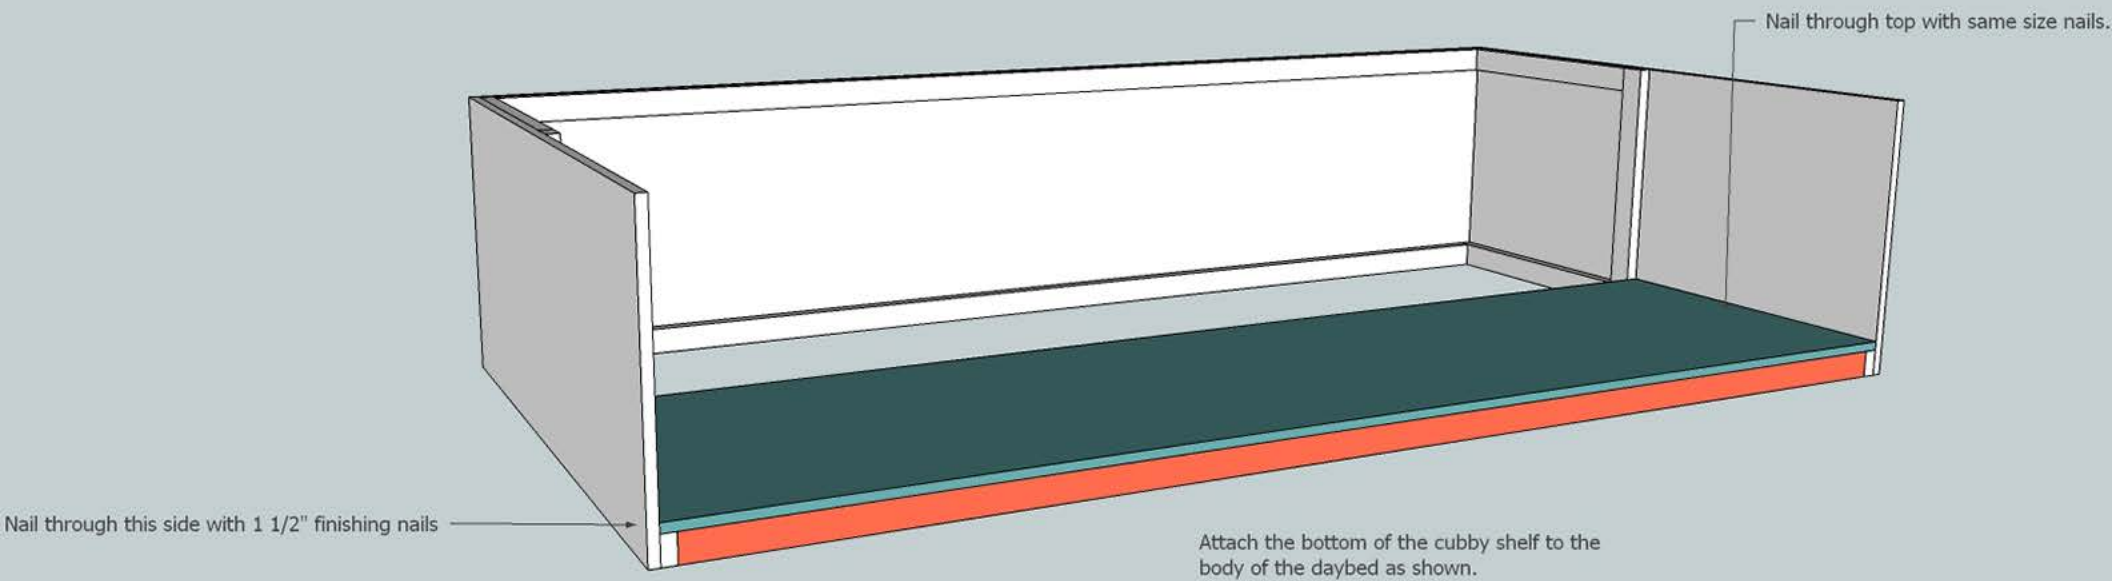

The Storage Daybed

Center (2) 1x2x12 1/2" boards on the cubby dividers and nail and glue through the front onto the edge of the cubby dividers.

The Storage Daybed

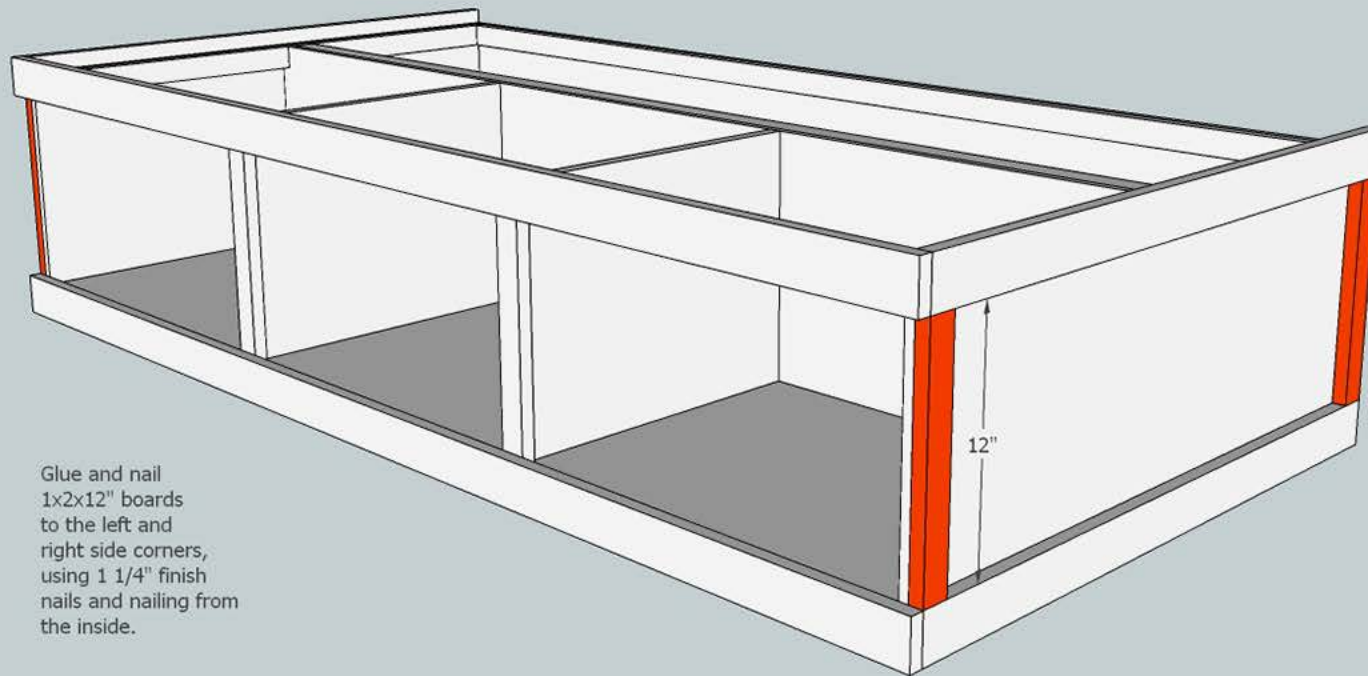

Glue and nail (2) 1x3x36 1/2" boards through the front on to the left and right sides of the daybed, as shown.

The Storage Daybed

Glue and nail (2) 1x3x74 1/2" boards to the front. Use wood glue and 1 1/2" finishing nails and nail through the fronts of the boards.

The Storage Daybed

Glue and nail
1x2x12" boards
to the left and right side corners,
using 1 1/4" finish
nails and nailing from the inside.

The Storage Daybed

Nail and glue through front of boards to attach (2) 1x3x12" pieces to the front left and right of daybed. These are for extra support and style and should be attached with wood glue and 1 1/2" finish nails.

The Storage Daybed

Use wood glue and 1 1/2" finish nails to attach the 3/4" thick 36 1/2" x 73" sheet of plywood. This is the top and doubles as a boxspring so the thickness of the board is important for its strength!
